

Audubon NEW YORK

STATE AND FEDERAL

CONSERVATION POLICY RESOLUTIONS

2007

Presented by Audubon New York and the Audubon Council of New York State

PROTECTING NEW YORK'S
GREAT NATURAL HERITAGE

The Audubon Council of New York State, Inc., is a federation of National Audubon Society chapters in New York State. The Council passes conservation resolutions, with the assistance and participation of Audubon New York staff (the state program of the National Audubon Society), each year at its spring assembly and council meeting. The priority focus of these resolutions is state legislation and funding actions needed to protect and enhance New York's natural resources. In addition, resolutions are passed which also call for regional and federal programs, where appropriate.

These resolutions provide the basis for Audubon New York's conservation efforts concerning birds, other wildlife and their habitats through education and advocacy. Audubon New York represents over 50,000 members and is supported by the activities of the National Audubon Society, the Audubon Council and Audubon Chapters, including their Boards, Committees and staff. These science-based policies are integrated into conservation campaigns focusing on birds, wildlife and their habitats, as well as funding for these initiatives. For further information on these resolutions, contact Audubon New York at 200 Trillium Lane, Albany, NY 12203, (518) 869-9731, fax (518) 869-0737, <http://ny.audubon.org>.

The back cover of this booklet lists the chapters and the inside back cover lists the leadership of the Audubon Council of New York State, as well as Audubon New York's Board of Directors, the Stewardship Committee and staff.

In the policy resolutions, the positions of the National Audubon Society and Audubon Council of New York State will be referred to as Audubon New York.

Audubon New York is dedicated to the protection of birds, other wildlife and their habitats through advocacy and education, serving as the state program of the National Audubon Society. Through a state board of directors and council, 30 chapters, 50,000 members, a nature center network and sanctuary system, Audubon New York is providing conservation leadership based on sound science.
